SHALL IT BE WAR OR PEACE?

President Wilson has answered most effectively the criticism of Mr. Hughes as to the administration's foreign policy. He shows conclusively that if the Republicans are successful and carry out their plans it will mean war with Germany and war with Mexico.

The President says: "If they are going to change the policy there is only one choice as against peace, that is war."

President Wilson has a way of getting to the root of a matter and he shows that there can be no escape from the conclusion that if Hughes should be elected and reverse the present administration's policies, there would be war with Germany and Mexico and perhaps England.

Seeing the bloody strife in all of its horror now prevailing in Europe the American people will not be anxious to plunge into the conflict.

INSIDE INFORMATION

In an interesting article by Remson Crawford in the Augusta Chronicle, he gives valuable information from the inside of the Hughes campaign.

Mr. Crawford says that Louis Siebold, the famous Washington correspondent who has followed Hughes on both his speaking tours of the Central and Far West, that the Republican candidate has really not excited the people of the country. Siebold says the President could go over the same ground, tell what he has done for the country and cause hats to be thrown in the air. Siebold says Wilson will be our next President.

So say we all.

A PATHETIC APPEAL

In an address by Senator Ben Tillman occurs this patriotic and pathetic plea that ought to be received by the people of South Carolina in the same spirit that dictated it. It is almost in the nature of a farewell message by one who loves his own people and loves them to the end. Read these words from a veteran whose race is nearly run and if you have any feeling of enmity forgive and forget it.

These are the closing words of the address: "I am growing old, and before I die I would like to see the people of South Carolina forget their differences and bury factionalism. Factions are the result of misunderstandings and social injustice. Let all the people, Bleasites and anti-Bleasites, come together in a spirit of mutual helpfulness, clearing up the misunderstandings and working together to remedy the injustices that are but too many. The vast majority of both factions—thank God!—are honest men, and surely honest men can find common ground to stand on."

In the death of Senator James P. Clarke, of Arkansas, his State and the nation have sustained a great loss. He was serving his third term as United States Senator and was president pro tem of the Senate since 1913.

Mr. N. L. Willett writes to the Augusta Chronicle about a new grass for hay that he calls pabalum dilatatum. Wouldn't that hay smell just as sweet by some other name?

Press dispatches state that Candidate Hughes says the speaking campaign has made him tired and he must rest a while. An expression from Mr. Hughes' campaign audiences would doubtless be to the same effect or more so.

A FORWARD LOOKING NEWS-PAPER

From The State:

"Keep the name of Chesterfield county before the people," the Chesterfield Advertiser advises in an editorial article about the county fair, and The Advertiser is itself a valuable and indispensable factor in the progress of a county that is going rapidly to the front in South Carolina. Mr. Paul H. Hearn has made a new newspaper of The Advertiser; it is a first rate county newspaper full of news and alive to all good movements. Moreover, it stands firmly for good government and enforcement of law—in which it is representative of Chesterfield.

Chesterfield has an immense advantage over many counties that, for the time, are wealthier—a large preponderance of white population. Good schools and plenty of them will make Chesterfield a foremost county in less than a generation and The Advertiser is a leading educational agency of Chesterfield.

(For these kind words the editor of The Advertiser is duly appreciative. He feels, however, that the good man in the big city office has divined his secret intentions and is here making a prophecy, which this editor shall endeavor all the harder to bring to pass.—P. H. H.)

He prayeth well, who loveth well
Both man and bird and beast.
He prayeth best who loveth best.
All things both great and small;
For the dear God who loveth us,
He made and loveth all.

—Samuel Taylor Coleridge.

KEEP A-GOIN'

By Frank L. Stanton

If you strike a thorn or rose,
Keep a-go'in';
If it hails or if it snows,
Keep a-go'in';
'Tain't no use ter sit and whine
When the fish ain't on yer line,
Bait yer hook and keep on tryin';
Keep a-go'in'!

When the weather kills your crop,
Keep a-go'in';
When you tumble from the top,
Keep a-go'in';
S'pose yer out of every dime,
Gittin' broke ain't no crime,
Tell the world yer feelin' fine;
Keep a-go'in'!

When it looks like all is up,
Keep a-go'in';
Drain the sweetness from the cup,
Keep a-go'in';
See the wild birds on the wing,
Hear the bells that sweetly ring,
When you feel like singin', sing;
Keep a-go'in'!

A Letter From Bill

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 7, 1916.

Dear Sammy:

I knew when I told you about the vaudeville that you would wake up. I am glad you are coming. Certainly they are pretty. Yes, we will have fireworks at night, foot ball games and lots of other things too numerous to mention. The Midway this year will be worth the trip. I would like to see Jim on the Midway.

I see by the papers that they have appointed a public safety committee. There will be such a big crowd here that the Jubilee people want to take every precaution to keep the visitors from getting hurt. That is a good idea. I do not know who will be the queen. The papers will announce it about October 15th. She certainly will have a fine time here.

I am glad you have persuaded Aunt Lou to come. Tell her I will take her to see the Leach-Wallin Trio.

There is some talk of "Fiddler's Convention" on the Capitol steps Friday afternoon. Tell Jim that if he is coming to write a postal card to Fiddler's Convention, Harvest Jubilee, Columbia, S. C., and to tell all the rest of the fellows who want to get into this to write down at once and find out the particulars.

The last time I attended the Fair down here there was not very much stirring until about Thursday. They have got the whole week checked full of events this year. If they keep on going at the rate they are now they will be holding this Fair week celebration two weeks instead of one. Everybody in Columbia has fixed up for the show.

Buffalo Bill will be at the Fair this year and we will have to see this show.

Your Cousin,
BILL.

In And About South Carolina

Isaac Silver & Co., proprietors of a chain of 5 and 10 cent stores have purchased a lot in Columbia at $1,500 per front foot, upon which a big building for their store will be erected.

Governor Manning, with a party of six business men and educators from this State have been in Louisiana studying cotton growing, marketing and storage conditions in that State. Particular attention is being given by them to the methods used in fighting the boll weevil in Louisiana.

Arthur Rannels Moore, of Barnwell, brother of Adjutant-General W. W. Moore, died as the result of a fracture of the skull and other injuries received when the automobile in which he and several others were riding turned turtle.

Cole L. Blease was the chief speaker at the opening exercises of Allen University, a large negro school in Columbia, despite the protest by alumni and former students. They said Blease had spoken insultingly of their race and they did not want to hear him speak at their college.

Miss Lula Whilden, for half a century a missionary in China, died in the Baptist hospital in Columbia, where she had been a patient since last December. Miss Whilden was a native of Charleston. Her father was a Baptist preacher, the Rev. B. W. Whilden, who was prominent in the Baptist denomination in a past generation.

A true bill was returned against V. B. Cheshire, editor of the Anderson Farmer's Tribune, by the grand jury of the United States district court, the allegation being that he sent or caused to be sent, lewd, lascivious, obscene and filthy matter through the mails.

Ten white persons, ranging in age from 20 months to 33 years, went to Columbia recently from Anderson for treatment at the Pasteur Institute. All these persons live in the southeastern part of the city, and were attacked and bitten on Monday and Tuesday of last week by a little French poodle dog. The head of the dog was sent to Pasteur Institute for examination, and it was learned that the dog had suffered from rabies.

THE FARMERS' DEFENSE TELLS WHY HE GETS GOODS FROM MAIL ORDER HOUSE

Recently a merchant of Natchez (Miss.) happened to see a farmer receive a box at the depot and noticed that it was from a mail order house. He also noticed that the goods were right in his line and the same as he had carried for years. He immediately approached the farmer and said:

"I could have sold you the goods you have here for less money than the Chicago house and saved you the freight."

"Then why don't you do so?" said the farmer. "I have taken the local paper a year and have not seen a line about you selling these or any other goods. This mail order house sends advertising matter to me asking for my trade, and they get it. If you have any bargains, why don't you put them in the paper so we can see what they are?"—New York Herald.

Two friends met after an absence of some months.

"What are you doing now?" inquired Bill.

"Working in a powder factory."

"Good job, is it?"

"Well, 22 shillings a week and prospects."

"What sort of prospects?"

"Of getting a 'rise' at any minute."

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good. I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.
